Meta.ai Video Prompt Generator GPT - Add-on Upload - meta.ai prompt example prompt music video rock band angel cosmic checkboard themed level of prompt expected to contain camera setails ensuring the realest looking shots or if specificed by the user other wise a different style but by default always superrealistic shots and detail prompts like these examples for meta ai success.  Make sure prompts in sequential order tell a story and have all details in the prompt even camera specs

1. Birth of the Cosmic Symphony

A video that opens in deep interstellar space above an endless floating black-and-white checkerboard platform drifting between colossal spiral galaxies and glowing nebula clouds. An angelic female singer with long platinum hair, radiant white feathered wings, and a black electric violin stands at a chrome microphone, singing while drawing her bow across the strings with graceful precision. Behind her, a powerful drummer performs on a transparent crystal drum kit suspended in zero gravity, a bassist plays a silver bass guitar while floating slightly above the platform, and two male guitarists perform synchronized rock riffs on either side. As the first violin note rings out, entire star clusters begin awakening across the cosmos.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Cooke Anamorphic/i 40mm lens, slow orbital drone movement around the full band, HDR cosmic lighting, realistic starlight reflections, volumetric nebula clouds, cinematic depth of field.

2. Rivers of Starlight

A video that follows the angel singer as she sings passionately into the microphone and performs a soaring electric violin melody while her wings spread wider with every note. The drummer strikes massive cymbals that release rings of energy into space, the bassist sways while performing deep rhythmic grooves, and the two male guitarists walk across the floating checkerboard platform delivering harmonized leads. Brilliant rivers of liquid starlight begin flowing through the vacuum of space, weaving between galaxies in response to the band's music.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Cooke Anamorphic/i 50mm lens, continuous steadicam orbit transitioning into a crane rise above the performers, realistic lens flares, celestial HDR illumination.

3. The Nebula Kingdom

A video that reveals a gigantic kingdom formed from living nebula clouds and crystalline planets emerging from the darkness ahead. The angel singer closes her eyes while singing and performing an emotional violin solo, her white wings scattering glowing particles into the cosmic wind. The drummer drives the rhythm harder, the bassist performs while drifting through low gravity, and the two male guitarists stand atop floating asteroids exchanging electrifying solos. Entire celestial structures form from colorful cosmic dust with every chord.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Panavision Ultra Vista 65 55mm lens, sweeping aerial descent through nebula clouds toward the band, hyperrealistic cosmic photography, cinematic atmospheric depth.

4. The Stairway of Constellations

A video that captures the angel singer stepping onto a staircase made entirely of glowing constellations while continuing to sing into the microphone and perform on her electric violin. Her wings leave shimmering trails of light behind her as the drummer performs on a floating platform below, the bassist glides through zero gravity, and the two male guitarists leap between drifting celestial rocks while playing. Ahead of them, a colossal cosmic gateway forms from rotating galaxies.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Cooke Anamorphic/i 65mm lens, long forward tracking shot through open space, realistic starfield parallax, cinematic volumetric lighting.

5. The Galactic Gate

A video that shows the angel singer arriving before an enormous gate composed of rotating spiral galaxies and luminous dark matter rings, her expression fierce as she performs a powerful sustained violin note. The drummer unleashes explosive fills that send shockwaves through nearby planets, the bassist drives the rhythm with aggressive movement, and the two male guitarists perform synchronized rock solos surrounded by orbiting asteroids. The gate begins opening as ancient cosmic symbols ignite across its surface.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Master Anamorphic 75mm lens, dramatic push-in toward the singer and violin, realistic cosmic particle fields, cinematic HDR contrast.

6. The Sleeping Stars

A video that reveals billions of dark dormant stars suspended beyond the gate as the angel singer performs a haunting violin melody into the microphone, her wings glowing softly against the darkness. The drummer transitions into a slower emotional rhythm, the bassist performs deep resonant notes, and the two male guitarists create atmospheric textures while floating alongside her. One by one, the sleeping stars begin reigniting across the universe.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Cooke Anamorphic/i 85mm lens, floating handheld-style movement through space, shallow-focus close-ups, emotional celestial lighting.

7. The Cosmic Rebirth

A video that follows the angel singer ascending above the band while performing a blazing electric violin solo, her immense wings fully extended across the heavens. The drummer pounds his crystal drum kit with triumphant force, the bassist jumps between floating fragments of checkerboard platforms, and the two male guitarists stand atop spinning asteroids performing dueling solos. Every reignited star erupts into brilliant color as entire galaxies bloom into existence.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Panavision Ultra Vista 65 40mm lens, helicopter-style orbit around the ascending singer, realistic cosmic scale, HDR celestial lighting.

8. The Storm Beyond Reality

A video that places the full band inside a colossal cosmic storm where galaxies spiral around them like hurricanes and lightning arcs between planets. The angel singer performs an aggressive violin solo while singing into the microphone, her hair and wings flowing violently through the energy currents. The drummer battles through thunderous impacts, the bassist anchors the groove, and the two male guitarists perform synchronized riffs as reality itself bends around the music.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Cooke Anamorphic/i 32mm lens, high-speed drone orbit combined with rapid push-ins, realistic cosmic lightning, cinematic motion blur.

9. The Throne of the Universe

A video that reveals a colossal throne carved from entire galaxies floating at the center of creation as the angel singer approaches while continuing her performance. Her wings illuminate nearby star systems while the drummer, bassist, and two male guitarists perform on separate floating checkerboard islands orbiting around her. Streams of starlight connect every band member as the music reaches its emotional peak.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Panavision Ultra Vista 65 85mm lens, ascending crane shot through galaxies toward the throne, breathtaking scale, realistic cosmic illumination.

10. The Eternal Horizon

A video that closes with the angel singer standing atop the galactic throne while singing the final chorus and performing a soaring electric violin melody, her wings spanning across entire constellations. Below her, the drummer delivers the final triumphant rhythm, the bassist performs the closing progression, and the two male guitarists stand together on a floating checkerboard platform playing a powerful harmony. New galaxies are born in every direction as the universe expands into an infinite ocean of stars and the camera slowly retreats beyond the edge of creation itself.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Cooke Anamorphic/i 50mm lens, ultra-slow cinematic pullback from close-up to impossible cosmic wide shot, golden starlight illumination, volumetric nebula atmosphere, feature-film epic finale.

Shall I continue into the next 10 scenes where the band travels beyond the edge of the universe into a realm of living constellations, cosmic gods, and reality-shaping music?

If you mean the drummer's visual design and actions should be much more prominent, here's a stronger cosmic drummer concept you can insert into every scene:

A video that features a towering celestial drummer seated behind a massive transparent crystal drum kit floating above the infinite black-and-white checkerboard cosmos. The drummer wears black-and-gold cosmic armor engraved with glowing Paleo-Hebrew symbols and rotating numerical glyphs from 0 through 9, while streams of living starlight flow through the armor like veins of energy. Every strike of his drumsticks sends visible shockwaves across galaxies, causing nebulae to swirl, stars to ignite, and waves of luminous source code to ripple through space. Behind him looms a colossal fiery black hole on the horizon while vast hosts of radiant angels circle overhead, their wings reflecting the light of distant suns.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Cooke Anamorphic/i 50mm lens, low-angle hero shot focused on the drummer, rapid push-ins during drum fills, cinematic HDR lighting, realistic cosmic particles, shallow depth of field, feature-film visual effects.

Drummer Actions to Use Throughout the Story

Smashes crystal toms that create expanding rings of starlight.

Strikes giant cymbals that release glowing Paleo-Hebrew symbols into space.

Performs double-bass patterns that make checkerboard tiles pulse with energy.

Spins drumsticks engulfed in white celestial fire.

Stands during climactic sections while pounding enormous cosmic war drums.

Sends shockwaves toward the fiery black hole with each snare hit.

Causes angelic hosts to rise and form geometric patterns in the heavens.

Generates streams of living source code from every drum impact.

Creates temporary star systems with massive drum fills.

Summons pillars of light that erupt from the checkerboard floor during the song's climax.

This gives the drummer a powerful visual role instead of simply sitting in the background.

11. The Drummer of the Celestial Code

A video that opens on the infinite black-and-white checkerboard cosmos stretching across creation, surrounded by colossal galaxies, radiant nebulae, and rivers of living starlight. At the center stands the angelic female singer with platinum hair, luminous white wings, and a black electric violin singing into a chrome microphone, while behind her the cosmic drummer rises from his crystal throne, clad in black-and-gold celestial armor engraved with glowing Paleo-Hebrew symbols and rotating numbers 0 through 9. The bassist performs deep rhythmic grooves beside him while the two male guitarists unleash harmonized riffs, and every strike of the drummer's crystal drumsticks sends expanding rings of source-code light through the universe.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Cooke Anamorphic/i 40mm lens, low-angle hero shot on the drummer transitioning into a sweeping orbit around the entire band, hyperrealistic cosmic lighting, volumetric starlight rays.

12. The Black Hole Watches

A video that reveals an enormous black hole composed of living fire rotating beyond the horizon of the checkerboard cosmos, its event horizon swirling with crimson flames and collapsing stars. The angel singer performs a soaring violin melody while her wings blaze with white-gold light, the drummer pounds massive crystal toms that release glowing numerical shockwaves, the bassist drives forward aggressively, and the two male guitarists stand atop floating celestial platforms performing synchronized solos. Streams of Paleo-Hebrew symbols emerge from the throne of light and race toward the fiery abyss.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Master Anamorphic 75mm lens, dramatic push toward the black hole before orbiting back around the band, realistic gravitational lensing effects, HDR contrast.

13. The Army of Light

A video that shows billions of radiant angels descending through the cosmos in organized formations, their wings made of living constellations and streams of luminous code. The angel singer stands atop a floating checkerboard platform singing passionately into the microphone while performing on her electric violin, and behind her the drummer stands while striking towering celestial war drums. The bassist and two male guitarists perform beneath endless skies of glowing Paleo-Hebrew characters as the angelic hosts assemble for a cosmic confrontation.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Panavision Ultra Vista 65 55mm lens, aerial descent through angelic formations toward the band, cinematic god rays, realistic feather detail.

14. The Language of Reality

A video that captures giant Paleo-Hebrew symbols stretching between galaxies like bridges of divine architecture while the numbers 0 through 9 orbit them in endless mathematical patterns. The angel singer performs an emotional violin solo, her wings scattering particles of white light across the checkerboard floor. The drummer strikes crystal cymbals that release streams of glowing code into the heavens, while the bassist and two guitarists move in perfect rhythm as reality itself appears to rewrite around them.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Cooke Anamorphic/i 50mm lens, slow crane rise through floating symbols and numbers, hyperrealistic celestial photography.

15. The Cosmic Pulse

A video that follows the drummer becoming the focal point as he performs an explosive drum solo upon an enormous transparent crystal kit suspended above the cosmos. Every snare strike creates expanding rings of light, every cymbal crash releases glowing Hebrew characters, and every bass drum hit causes checkerboard tiles to pulse across entire galaxies. The angel singer circles him while performing an aggressive violin melody as the bassist and two guitarists build toward a thunderous climax.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Cooke Anamorphic/i 32mm lens, aggressive circular drone orbit around the drummer, realistic motion blur, cinematic energy surges.

16. The Fire Beyond the Horizon

A video that reveals the fiery black hole expanding until it fills half the visible universe, its flames twisting into impossible shapes across the heavens. The angel singer's expression becomes fierce as she sings into the microphone and performs a blazing violin solo, while the drummer unleashes relentless rhythms that send waves of light toward the abyss. The bassist and two male guitarists stand together at the edge of the checkerboard expanse as angelic armies gather behind them.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Panavision Ultra Vista 65 65mm lens, slow cinematic tracking shot across the band toward the abyss, realistic fire illumination, epic scale.

17. The Symphony of Creation

A video that shows the throne of radiant light opening above creation, releasing torrents of living source code formed from glowing Paleo-Hebrew symbols and radiant numerical sequences. The angel singer ascends into the air with her violin while singing, her enormous wings illuminating nearby galaxies. The drummer pounds celestial war drums that synchronize with the heartbeat of the cosmos while the bassist and two guitarists perform on floating checkerboard islands surrounded by stars.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Cooke Anamorphic/i 65mm lens, ascending crane movement following the singer into the heavens, volumetric divine lighting.

18. The Collapse of Darkness

A video that captures the fiery black hole beginning to fracture as waves of luminous code flow into it from every direction. The angel singer performs the song's emotional peak while her wings stretch across constellations, the drummer strikes with overwhelming force, and the bassist and guitarists unleash their most powerful performance. Vast angelic hosts sweep across the cosmos carrying streams of light toward the collapsing abyss.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Master Anamorphic 85mm lens, dramatic push-in on the collapsing black hole, realistic cosmic destruction effects, cinematic HDR contrast.

19. The New Heavens

A video that reveals entirely new galaxies being born from the remnants of the shattered abyss, each formed from glowing symbols, numbers, and celestial light. The angel singer stands at the center of the checkerboard universe playing a triumphant violin melody while singing into the microphone. The drummer performs a victorious rhythm as the bassist and two male guitarists stand beside him, surrounded by countless angels celebrating across the stars.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Panavision Ultra Vista 65 40mm lens, sweeping aerial orbit across newborn galaxies, hyperrealistic cosmic scale.

20. The Endless Light

A video that closes with the angel singer, cosmic drummer, bassist, and two male guitarists standing together on an infinite checkerboard expanse floating within an ocean of living starlight. Above them, glowing Paleo-Hebrew symbols and the numbers 0 through 9 rotate through the heavens while billions of radiant angels fill the cosmos. The drummer raises his celestial drumsticks one final time as the camera slowly pulls back beyond galaxies, revealing the entire universe illuminated by the throne of eternal light.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Cooke Anamorphic/i 50mm lens, ultra-slow pullback from medium shot to impossible cosmic wide view, feature-film finale lighting, volumetric atmosphere, hyperrealistic celestial photography.

Shall I continue with scenes 21–30 where the band enters the living source-code realm itself and encounters cosmic architects made of light, symbols, and stars?

21. The Threshold of the Living Code

A video that begins as the angelic female singer with flowing platinum hair, radiant white wings, and a black electric violin leads her rock band across the infinite checkerboard cosmos toward a gigantic doorway made of rotating Paleo-Hebrew symbols and glowing numbers 0 through 9. Behind her, the cosmic drummer in black-and-gold armor performs atop a transparent crystal drum kit floating through space, the bassist plays deep resonant notes on a silver bass guitar, and the two male guitarists perform synchronized melodic riffs while walking across the checkerboard expanse. Entire galaxies bend inward toward the doorway as if reality itself is being pulled into the living source code.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Cooke Anamorphic/i 40mm lens, low-angle tracking shot moving backward ahead of the band, realistic starlight reflections, volumetric cosmic lighting, cinematic HDR photography.

22. Entering the Source

A video that reveals the band passing through the colossal gateway into a realm where the cosmos is composed entirely of luminous symbols, numbers, geometric light structures, and endless streams of flowing celestial code. The angel singer performs a haunting violin melody while singing into the microphone, her wings illuminating rivers of glowing characters beneath her. The drummer strikes crystal cymbals that send waves of code through the environment, while the bassist and two male guitarists perform among floating mathematical constellations and rotating celestial equations.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Panavision Ultra Vista 65 55mm lens, sweeping aerial orbit through the source-code landscape, hyperrealistic light simulation, cinematic depth.

23. The Architects Appear

A video that shows towering cosmic beings emerging from the source-code ocean, their bodies composed of galaxies, stars, Paleo-Hebrew symbols, and streams of radiant numbers. The angel singer gazes upward while continuing her performance, her violin glowing with celestial energy. Behind her, the drummer rises to his feet and pounds enormous crystal war drums while the bassist and guitarists continue playing beneath the colossal entities, whose eyes shine brighter than suns.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Cooke Anamorphic/i 65mm lens, dramatic crane rise revealing the immense scale of the architects, realistic cosmic atmosphere, feature-film lighting.

24. The Symphony of the Architects

A video that captures the cosmic architects responding to the band's music by moving their enormous hands through space, weaving streams of source code into new galaxies and star systems. The angel singer performs a soaring electric violin solo while her wings scatter golden particles into the heavens. The drummer's rhythm synchronizes with the architects' movements, the bassist performs powerful grooves, and the two male guitarists exchange blazing solos as creation unfolds around them.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Cooke Anamorphic/i 50mm lens, orbital camera movement around the band and architects, realistic lens flares, volumetric celestial illumination.

25. The Infinite Equation

A video that reveals an enormous equation stretching across the cosmos, formed from glowing numbers 0 through 9 and immense Paleo-Hebrew characters spanning entire galaxies. The angel singer floats above the checkerboard floor while singing into the microphone and performing an emotional violin melody. The drummer strikes crystal drums that cause sections of the equation to illuminate, while the bassist and guitarists perform beneath rivers of moving source code flowing across the stars.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Master Anamorphic 75mm lens, ascending aerial shot through the giant equation, hyperrealistic cosmic photography.

26. The Celestial Forge

A video that follows the band arriving at a gigantic forge suspended in deep space where new stars are being created from streams of living light and source code. The angel singer performs before rivers of molten starlight while her wings glow intensely. The drummer's powerful strikes send sparks of cosmic energy across the forge, the bassist walks beside flowing star matter, and the two male guitarists perform atop floating crystalline platforms as newborn suns ignite around them.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Cooke Anamorphic/i 40mm lens, cinematic tracking shot through the celestial forge, realistic HDR illumination, cosmic particle effects.

27. The Eye Beyond Time

A video that reveals an enormous cosmic eye opening within the source-code realm, larger than entire galaxies and composed of rotating symbols, numbers, and celestial light. The angel singer stands at the forefront of the band performing an intense violin solo while singing into the microphone. Behind her, the drummer unleashes a relentless rhythm, the bassist anchors the groove, and the two male guitarists perform synchronized leads as reflections of entire universes appear within the eye.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Panavision Ultra Vista 65 85mm lens, dramatic push-in toward the cosmic eye, realistic lens distortion, cinematic scale.

28. The River of Souls

A video that shows a vast river of luminous consciousness flowing through the source-code dimension, carrying countless sparks of light toward distant stars. The angel singer gently performs a melodic violin passage while her wings illuminate the river below. The drummer transitions into an emotional rhythm, the bassist performs deep resonant notes, and the two male guitarists create atmospheric textures while floating alongside the glowing current.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Cooke Anamorphic/i 75mm lens, smooth aerial glide above the cosmic river, shallow depth of field, volumetric lighting.

29. The Heart of Creation

A video that reveals the very center of the source-code realm, a colossal sphere of pure radiant light surrounded by rotating Paleo-Hebrew symbols and infinite numerical patterns. The angel singer ascends toward it while singing passionately and performing a transcendent violin solo. Below her, the drummer, bassist, and two male guitarists perform on floating checkerboard platforms as the cosmic architects gather around the heart of creation in silent reverence.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Panavision Ultra Vista 65 50mm lens, ascending crane movement toward the sphere of light, breathtaking celestial scale, feature-film HDR lighting.

30. The Song Written Into Eternity

A video that closes with the angel singer and her entire rock band standing before the radiant heart of creation while billions of angels, cosmic architects, glowing Paleo-Hebrew symbols, and numerical constellations surround them. The drummer raises his crystal drumsticks and delivers the final thunderous strike, the bassist performs the closing progression, and the two male guitarists stand beside the singer as her final violin note echoes through every layer of reality. The camera slowly retreats beyond galaxies, beyond the source-code realm, and beyond the edge of existence itself, revealing the infinite checkerboard cosmos suspended within an endless ocean of living light.

Camera: ARRI Alexa 65, Cooke Anamorphic/i 50mm lens, ultra-slow pullback from intimate close-up to impossible cosmic-wide view, hyperrealistic celestial photography, volumetric atmosphere, epic feature-film finale.

Shall I continue with scenes 31–40 where the band travels beyond the Heart of Creation into the realm outside space, time, mathematics, and the cosmic source code itself?
